MODULE

December 2025

There are so many ways to give during Advent and Christmas. Reflecting on the gift of Christ as an expression of God's love is an easy launching point. That kind of love compels us to share it with others, and expressing our love through giving and receiving is an essential part of the Christmas season. In addition to rejoicing in all the gifts you have received, it's a great time to consider new ways to share your own gifts with others: through acts of service, time, resources, or encouraging words.

REFLECTION

"On this festive day, let us not fail to express our gratitude to those who spend themselves, quietly and faithfully, in doing good and in serving others. I think of parents, educators and teachers, who have the great responsibility of forming future generations. I think too of healthcare workers, the forces of order and all those men and women who carry out works of charity, especially missionaries throughout the world: they bring light and comfort to so many people in difficulty. To all of them we want to say: Thank you!"

--Pope Francis, Christmas Message 2024

TEAM DISCUSSION

What are some creative ways you can give this year?

How is working in healthcare a gift?
