Board of Directors

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

When the Hospital Sisters of St. Francis came to America to begin their health care ministry 145 years ago, none of them could have imagined what the years ahead would have in store. Hospital Sisters Health System has a long and storied history over its 145-year existence, with many milestones that will never be forgotten. In each of the communities we serve, HSHS has played an integral part in that community's history by providing for the health and well-being of the people living there. This year will be another milestone for the history books as America has faced the challenges of COVID-19 mixed with instances of racial injustice and societal unrest. While it has been a challenging year, HSHS has continued to be an essential cornerstone for our communities, committed to our mission and serving the needs of all people living there.

The COVID-19 pandemic has shown us the extraordinary resilience of our colleagues. We are at a place where we are being called to care for others during a period of incredible uncertainty and overwhelming needs. Throughout the pandemic, we have relied on the strength of our dedicated colleagues who have served on the frontlines and been selfless caregivers to our patients, whether COVID-positive or not. HSHS is truly blessed to have colleagues who heroically place themselves at significant risk to care for those in need.

This year has also reminded us of the Sisters' important role in the Springfield Race Riots of 1908 when they treated the injured and infirmed side by side in the hospital hallways, no matter the color of their skin. We are proud of this long history of condemning racism and affirming the human dignity of all people. Today, we recommit ourselves to continue that tradition.

In spite of the challenges this year, HSHS has many achievements to celebrate. One of this year's highlights across the system includes the expansion of telemedicine. With so many patients staying home during the pandemic and reluctant to seek health care in traditional settings, telemedicine grew exponentially. It was one of the many occasions when our HSHS colleagues arose to the challenge to find innovative solutions to meet the needs of our patients in new ways.

Our physician partnerships continued to see steady growth this year as we opened clinics in new markets for HSHS. HSHS Medical Group and Prairie Cardiovascular opened clinics in Troy, Edwardsville and Mattoon – each of them a first for HSHS in those cities. Prevea Health continued their expansion as well, with a new clinic in Menominee and several replacements of existing clinics to better meet the growing demand of patients. We also partnered on the development of a new outpatient cancer center in O'Fallon, Illinois that will serve countless residents of the metro east area of St. Louis and southwest Illinois. As health care continues to move care to ambulatory settings, we expect more growth in our physician clinics, partnerships and telehealth services.

Additionally, as a Catholic health care provider, HSHS has a long and rich tradition of addressing health disparities and health needs in the communities we serve. HSHS ministries collaborate with community partners to address needs through our broader community health programs. This includes strategic health partnerships, subsidized health services, research and community building activities. In 2020, these came in the form of neighborhood and emergency department-based community health worker programs; COVID-19 community awareness, resources and education, including free COVID-19 drive-through testing sites; equity, diversity and inclusion trainings; access to healthy foods through partnerships and community gardens; behavioral telehealth crisis intervention screening; development of health care specific human trafficking education; shelter-based homeless clinics; participation in community screenings, and so much more.

Looking forward to 2021, HSHS will continue to be faithful to our mission and care for all people regardless of race, income or gender. Year after year, we see our colleagues step forward to care for their neighbors, often putting themselves and their families at risk. We are so proud of the care they have provided during this COVID-19 pandemic and how they personify our Franciscan mission, values and heritage.

For more than 145 years, our mission to share the healing love of Christ has remained constant. On behalf of the HSHS family and now more than ever, we are honored to serve our patients, their families and our communities in the healing tradition of Jesus Christ and St. Francis and St. Clare of Assisi. Stay safe and be well.

Sincerely,

Mary Starmann-Harrison

*Start by doing what's necessary; then do
what's possible; and suddenly you are doing the impossible.*

- St. Francis of Assisi

Dear Friends,

Looking back over this past year, it is hard to put into words all that we have gone through together. This unprecedented worldwide pandemic has changed the landscape of health care not only for this year but for years to come.

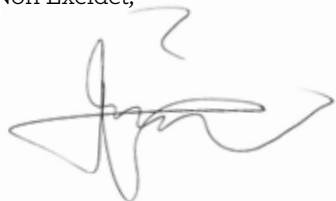

While health care looks nothing like it did a year ago, I choose to focus on what this year has shown us positively about our HSHS Illinois ministries. I couldn't be more impressed by the way colleagues, physicians and other providers at our nine facilities rose to the occasion in caring for patients and their family members. I am extremely grateful for the hard work, dedication and commitment to our mission.

I have always known we have talented and creative colleagues, but the innovations demonstrated across our division to continue to provide safe care, ensure continual communication and connect patients with their loved ones were impressive. Our colleagues also had to innovate rapidly with the evolution of this situation and ever-changing requirements of our health agencies and government. We pulled together as a team to accomplish what may have seemed impossible at the time.

This year has not been without its demands and challenges, but we have faced them together, much like the first Hospital Sisters. They began this journey 145 years ago and suffered many trials and celebrated many blessings together developing this ministry, which we carry on today. They followed the words of St. Francis which are shared above – doing what was necessary, then doing what was possible, leading to doing what seemed impossible. We do the same each and every day, and especially in times like these.

There are so many other things outlined in this report that also deserve recognition. We accomplished much prior to the pandemic and will continue to grow and develop our ministries well into the future. We are continuing to make a difference in the lives of people in our communities with respect, care, competence and joy.

Non Excidet,

Persevering during a pandemic

The worldwide Coronavirus pandemic (COVID-19) completely changed the way hospitals and many other organizations do business. Health care workers had to adapt quickly and change processes, protocols and safety precautions.

From the start, colleagues at each of the HSHS hospitals took this event seriously, from asking travel questions and screening those coming into the hospitals, to activating incident commands, cancelling elective surgeries and public events and implementing visitor restrictions. Colleagues stepped up to learn new job responsibilities and worked additional hours to help ensure all services would continue. Supply chain colleagues throughout the state put strict inventory controls on all personal protective equipment (PPE) to ensure an adequate supply while also keeping colleagues and physicians safe.

Early on, HSHS Illinois identified the need to consolidate the most critical COVID patients at its two largest hospitals—HSHS St. John’s Hospital in Springfield and HSHS St. Elizabeth’s Hospital in O’Fallon. Engineering and maintenance departments worked quickly to establish designated COVID patient floors and outfit rooms with negative airflow for COVID patients and patients awaiting test results.

In fall 2020, HSHS Illinois hospitals began to keep patients in their local community as all hospitals faced a COVID surge. Through it all, colleagues went above and beyond to care for everyone with high-quality compassionate care.

The pandemic demonstrated how effective telehealth is for both the medical provider and the patient. Colleagues also used phone calls and FaceTime to help connect patients with their loved ones.

Throughout this crisis, HSHS Illinois took several measures to ensure medical professionals and colleagues remain safe. These steps included presurgical COVID-19 testing, colleague screenings and practicing social distancing wherever possible.

In December 2020, a light at the end of the tunnel came with the arrival of COVID-19 vaccines, providing an additional level of protection for our frontline colleagues.

Despite these challenges, HSHS Illinois colleagues and providers continue to live out our mission to reveal and embody Christ’s healing love through our high quality Franciscan health care ministry.

Family centered care is focus of NICU renovation project

Work on the new neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) in HSHS St. John's Children's Hospital in Springfield is now complete. The new unit will expand capacity to allow for the care of 56 high risk and critically ill newborns in single-family patient rooms. The hospital also plans to offer couplet care rooms in the renovated NICU. Couplet care rooms allow moms and their NICU babies to heal together in the same space while the mother is still a patient in the hospital. St. John's will be one of only a few hospitals across the country to offer this type of developmentally supportive family-centered care.

As the only Level III NICU in the area, St. John's Children's Hospital is a critical medical resource to protect the healthy recovery and development of babies throughout south-central Illinois. The NICU cares for more than 700 babies annually. The new unit will open in March 2021.

Wiesemann Women's Center opens on HSHS St. Mary's Hospital campus

HSHS St. Mary's Hospital in Decatur continued to expand its imaging services by focusing on the addition of the Wiesemann Women's Center. This space, designed specifically for women and their needs, was a gift to the hospital and community from Kathy and Bob Wiesemann, long-time community members and passionate supporters of St. Mary's Hospital.

This new, state-of-the-art imaging center provides a remarkable experience for the women of Decatur and Macon County. It houses technology to perform procedures such as 3D mammography screenings, breast biopsies, DEXA scans and ultrasounds.

The new center not only provides imaging services, but also comfort and convenience in a relaxed, spa-like atmosphere. The atmosphere, combined with warm, experienced and calming staff, help put our patients' minds at ease.

"With three daughters, women's health is a big part of our lives," Kathy Wiesemann said. "I hope it serves as a place of comfort, calm and care."

HSHS St. Elizabeth's Hospital opens new Cancer Care Center

In spring of 2020, HSHS St. Elizabeth's Hospital and Cancer Care Specialists of Illinois (CCSI) welcomed patients into the new Cancer Care Center of O'Fallon. The center offers comprehensive cancer services to patients in the metro east region.

The 31,000-square-foot building houses St. Elizabeth's Hospital's newly added radiation oncology services department and CCSI clinic space. The facility gives patients the ability to receive innovative and advanced radiation and medical oncology treatments close to home. Having all cancer care services in a single location helps reduce barriers and burdens on patients.

The center also features calming décor and beautiful, one-of-a-kind artwork from local artist Sharon Aach. There are three of Aach's unique reverse-painting, mixed media glass panels on display. The vibrant images inspire colleagues and uplift patients. Aach also has numerous pieces on permanent display at St. Elizabeth's, including one that is an artistic depiction of the Cantic of the Sun.

The hospital is proud to continue its quality patient care through its various cancer-related programs to provide the full spectrum of cancer care.

HSHS St. Anthony's Memorial Hospital in Effingham recognized for excellence

HSHS St. Anthony's Memorial Hospital's journey to excellence is taken on behalf of patients and their families to continue to provide quality care close to home. An additional milestone on this journey this year was reached when St. Anthony's received the 2019 Silver Award for Excellence from the Illinois Manufacturing Excellence Center (IMEC). This award demonstrates the hospital's ability to provide exceptional care, quality, safety and experience to patients.

The Joint Commission also honored St. Anthony's commitment to excellence by awarding the hospital its Gold Seal of Approval® for advanced total hip and knee replacement certification. The certification, in collaboration with the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, focuses on the pre-surgical orthopaedic consultation to the surgical procedure, hospitalization, rehabilitation activities and follow-up visit with the orthopaedic surgeon. St. Anthony's is one of only two hospitals in Illinois to achieve this advanced orthopaedic certification. St. Anthony's also received this advanced certification in 2018.

These, among other awards the hospital received this year, demonstrates St. Anthony's commitment to excellence in fulfilling its mission.

Expanded Clinton County Rural Health opens on HSHS St. Joseph's Hospital campus

On November 16, 2020, HSHS St. Joseph's Hospital Breese unveiled the newly expanded Clinton County Rural Health medical clinic on the hospital campus.

This growth initiative took a little more than a year to complete, adding approximately 12,000 square feet onto the existing building. This project also created access to additional parking. Phase two of this expansion involves renovating portions of the preexisting medical practice office which will offer more clinic space, providing patients with additional amenities and convenience. The final phase is anticipated to be complete in late spring/early summer 2021.

St. Joseph's Hospital President and CEO Chris Klay shared, "The Clinton County Rural Health expansion affords us the space to better support our existing patients and providers and also supports our efforts to bring additional providers to this region. This is an important investment in ensuring we continue to provide quality care and access to the residents of this area."

Lifesaving care, close to home, makes all the difference

On Sunday, May 24, 2020, Tess Lohman was in a car accident that left her with extensive injuries and took the life of her significant other, Lincoln. Tess and her family firmly believe she is here today because of the grace of God and the high level of care she received from the emergency department team at HSHS Holy Family Hospital in Greenville.

“Without having a hospital in our town, Tess’ story would have been different,” said Brenda Lohman, Tess’ mom.

The emergency team at Holy Family worked quickly to stabilize Tess so she could be air lifted to HSHS St. John’s Hospital in Springfield to receive further care. Tess spent a month at St. John’s and then moved to a rehabilitation facility in Chicago to regain her strength.

Almost seven weeks after the accident, Tess was able to go home and be reunited with her and Lincoln’s daughter, Ellie.

Back in Greenville, Tess receives follow-up care close to home. She recently went back to Holy Family Hospital, but this time it was to thank her care team for their lifesaving actions back in May.

“We are so thankful for everyone with Holy Family Hospital for all they did to save Tess,” Brenda said.

Construction project expands and improves emergency department

HSHS St. Francis Hospital in Litchfield successfully completed a $4 million construction project to redesign the emergency department and expand the size of the trauma and patient rooms in FY20. The expansion was made possible after opening the new surgery center and bringing a new MRI in-house. This opened up space formerly used for these services for the renovation.

The new emergency department includes seven spacious patient rooms, two large trauma rooms and a modern nurses station conveniently located in the center of all treatment rooms. The emergency department cares for more than 10,000 patients each year.

President and CEO Jim Timpe said, “We were very excited about this expansion project. Having our emergency department available 24 hours a day, seven days a week is so important for the communities we serve.”

Recognition and thanks go to the numerous St. Francis Hospital emergency department colleagues and physicians who were involved in the project. Their expertise and knowledge were vital and helped ensure the hospital continues to provide high quality Franciscan health care.

HSHS St. Joseph's Hospital in Highland delivers exceptional patient experience even during unprecedented times

While the arrival of COVID-19 led to difficult times, the colleagues at HSHS St. Joseph's Hospital Highland continued to provide an exceptional patient experience to those in their care.

In fall 2020, the Illinois Critical Access Hospital Network (ICAHN) recognized St. Joseph's Hospital Highland for its ongoing commitment to quality care. ICAHN, located in Princeton, Ill., is a network of 57 small rural Illinois hospitals dedicated to strengthening the operations of its member hospitals through collaboration.

As part of the Federal Office of Rural Health Policy Medicare Beneficiary Quality Improvement Program, St. Joseph's Hospital and other critical access hospitals voluntarily participate in four defined domains of quality outcomes – patient safety/inpatient, patient engagement, care transitions and outpatient measures.

St. Joseph's Hospital was honored by ICAHN for achieving a 5-star rating in HCAHPS (Hospital Consumer Assessment of Health Plans Survey) scores. The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services created the HCAHPS Star Ratings to allow consumers to easily access the patient experience of care information on the Hospital Compare website.

This award is a testament to the dedication of St. Joseph's Highland colleagues in delivering an exceptional patient experience even in the midst of a pandemic.

Community garden at HSHS Good Shepherd Hospital an added blessing this year

With many people out of work due to the pandemic, and many restaurants closed, the community garden at HSHS Good Shepherd Hospital in Shelbyville helped fill an even greater need for nutritious, locally grown fruits and vegetables. Hospital staff members and community volunteers harvested more than 50 pounds of fruits and vegetables, with some plants still producing late into the year. Donations of radishes, cantaloupe, tomatoes and green peppers were provided to First United Methodist Food Pantry as well as the Towers, a local housing facility.

The community garden was created in 2018 when Good Shepherd partnered with First Presbyterian Church with all produce donated to the Methodist church food pantry and to the First Presbyterian Church monthly meal mission. This initiative has since expanded to many more local gardens, all benefitting the Shelbyville community.

Good Shepherd mission team members, other hospital colleagues and community volunteers all helped tend the garden and deliver the produce to the food pantry.

St. John's College of Nursing students and faculty travel to Ecuador

In February 2020, a team of St. John's College faculty and students from Springfield traveled to Ecuador for the third time to help individuals served by the Pan de Vida Mission. The team started its visit by making home visits on the first day. The living quarters in Ecuador include huts with leaky roofs, dirt floors and no refrigeration.

The students were tasked with conducting a health fair at the mission. The students were fortunate to collaborate with 16 other BSN nursing students from the U.S. who were visiting the mission at the same time. At the health fair, the BSN students assessed vital signs, height and weight. The family nurse practitioner students then performed physicals on more than 200 individuals.

One student said, "We saw so many families and were able to help so many people. It was one of the most rewarding and exhausting experiences of my life. I am very grateful for this wonderful adventure and hope to go on more medical mission trips in the future."

Sixty pounds of medical supplies donated by Hospital Sisters Mission Outreach were used during the home visits and at the health fair. Students and faculty were thankful for the opportunity to help the less fortunate and to better prepare the students to provide wholistic care to diverse populations.
